

UNIVERSITY GETS $18,600 FORD GRANT

FUND WILL BE USED FOR INSTITUTIONAL SELF-
SURVEY

DePauw University today was announced as the recipient of an $18,600 grant from the Ford Foundation's Fund for the Advancement of Education, to be used in conducting an institutional self-survey.

Fifteen other colleges and universities in the United States received similar awards to survey some aspect of their liberal education programs. The 16 grants under a plan instituted by the Ford last year totaled $280,000.

DePauw's self-survey program will include a survey of personnel, curriculum, and goals, to be completed by Sept. 1, 1955, under the direction of Dr. Robert H. Farber, dean of the university.

Through the fund's grants, each institution is enabled to secure consultants and free some faculty members from normal duties to permit a review of the school's purposes, to appraise its program, and to plan improvements.

Other institutions receiving awards were Earlham, Allegheny, Bowdoin, Colby, Cornell (Ia.), Heidelberg, Hope, St. Olaf's, and Scripps Colleges; Drake, Lincoln, and Stanford Universities; the State University of Iowa; Parsons School of Design; and Hampton Institute.

Noted Baseball Figure Is Dead

PORTCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 16.—(UP)—All baseball was in mourning today for Edward Grant Barrow, the man who discovered Honus Wagner, converted Babe Ruth into an outfielder and built the New York Yankees into the game's greatest dynasty.

The husky-browed, 82-year-old Barrow died of a malignancy at Portchester United Hospital at 8:35 p. m. EST Tuesday night. His wife, Frances, and his personal physician were at his bedside when he died.

Barrow's body will lie at Campbell's Funeral Home in New York, the same place Ruth's body lay after his death in 1948. Burial arrangements will be announced later today.

Beloved and respected by all who knew him, Barrow was general manager of the Yankees from 1920 to 1947, during which period the team won 14 American League championships and 10 World Series titles. Such Yankee greats as Lou Gehrig, Tony Lazzeri, Herb Pennock, Charlie Ruffing, Bill Dickey and Lefty Gomez always were Barrow's responsibility at contract-signing time.

Two-Headed Boy Clings To Life

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 16.—(UP)—The father of a two-headed baby boy, probably the only such live birth ever recorded, said today he had been given at least "some hope" for the child's survival.

Physicians at James Whitcomb Riley hospital for children said the infant's chances to remain alive were 100 to one. The baby was rushed here for care Saturday shortly after its birth in Daviess county hospital, Washington, Ind.

Dr. Vance Chaitin, who delivered the baby, credited birth through Caesarean section with enabling the child to live. He said a normal delivery probably would have been fatal to the child and the mother.

The youngster has two normally-formed heads with separate necks, two shoulders and four arms. The upper appendages are attached to a single lower trunk at the chest. Physicians likened the upper part of the boy's body to that of Siamese twins.

The 44-year-old father, a laborer at Petersburg, Ind., said he had been contacted by a circus man regarding the infant. He previously had appealed for financial help in caring for his other five children.

"I'm a poor man. I've always been a poor man. I don't need anybody like a circus man to help me," he said.

The father said authorities apparently still had not resolved the dilemma of whether to regard the youngster as a single child or twins. He said he gave birth to twins. He said he gave the child two names, on advice of hospital officials, but signed both names on one birth certificate.

He said the name Donald Ray was chosen for the best one, the one they think will live, and Daniel Kaye for the other.

Supreme Court Upholds Ruling

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 16.—(UP)—The Indiana Supreme Court today upheld a Vermillion circuit court decision in a state gross income tax case brought by Mark Nebeker, Clinton.

The high court, in a split decision, ruled the state cannot charge gross income taxes on stock transactions involving securities bought on a margin. Nebeker bought stock from the New York Stock Exchange through an Indianapolis broker. He sued to recover taxes on his transactions from 1944 through 1946, and was awarded a $311 refund, plus interest, by the lower court.

Chief Justice Floyd Draper and Judge James Emmert dissented. Draper said the Indiana tax does not violate the interstate commerce clause of the U. S. constitution and the lower court should have been reversed.

Brothers Held For Burglaries

ANDERSON, Dec. 16.—(UP)—Two brothers, called the "tennis shoe" burglars because of the footprints they left, were held here today on burglary charges in the looting of 13 business places that authorities said may have netted them as much as $10,000.

Police arrested Harold Kelley, 27, and Byron J. Kelley, 23, at their home here after the theft of a safe containing some $1,800 from The Bush Drug Store at Chesterfield Monday night. Authorities said both men were on parole from two-to-five-year sentences at the Indiana state reformatory for burglary convictions.

Police said the other burglaries took place in Madison county and one theft from a hardware store in Fortville. They said the brothers also stole two automobiles and a truck from used car lots for transportation in their five-month crime spree.

The men admitted the thefts, police said and took authorities to a cemetery near where they had hidden a 400-pound safe taken from the Chesterfield drug store.

State, county and city police worked on the case. Authorities said the tennis shoe print was the downfall of the brothers. They said the men were picked up for questioning when police discovered a footprint in the snow near their house similar to the print left at the scene of the Chesterfield break-in and numerous other burglaries.

POLICE WILL GUARD TEAMS DURING TILT

TECH-CRISPUS ATTACKS TO PLAY BEFORE PACKED
FIELDHOUSE

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 16.—(UP)—It still was uncertain if two threatened Indianapolis Tech high school basketball players would suit up for tonight's game with city rival Crispus Attucks as Coach Charley Maas said he would leave the final decision to their parents.

The well-publicized game was expected to attract a near-capacity crowd of some 12,000 to Butler University field house, including a liberal representation from the city police force assigned to protect the players on both squads.

"It's up to their parents," Maas said as he sought to prepare his starting lineup for the tilt. Tech is undefeated and Attucks has been beaten only once. The game was regarded as a toss-up with Attucks given a slight edge.

Maas said, "We'll go along with their parents' wishes. The boys are eager to play, but I don't know whether or not they'll play."

The mothers of both Tech players who received warnings earlier said they would prefer that the youths didn't play.

Tech guard Dave Huff received the first of a series of warnings last week when he said three men held him at knife point and threatened him not to score in the game. Later, team mate Don Sesson and Maas were threatened in phone calls and letters.

The threats also spread to the Attucks squad and their coach, Ray Crowe, who said he believed the warnings were the work of "cranks."

The situation for Tech was further complicated when Wesc Sesson, father of Don Sesson, said he was "counting on Don playing." He said, "As far as Mrs. Sesson is concerned, that's something else again."

Sesson said most of the threats to his son had been "indirect."

"If Don would have had a knife in his back (like Dave Huff) it may be different."

Ironically, Maas said Huff also has a cold and might not see action anyway. He said Huff's physical condition also would have to be taken into account as no game is worth injuring a boy's health.

Crowe indicated the threats would not hamper his team.

"Our boys aren't upset," he said. Crowe said he would start his top player, Winford O'Neal, and Bill Mason, both of whom received warnings from the racketeers or pranksters.

Police said they had no further leads in the case, but declared they were ready to protect all players.

"We'll have uniformed police and plainclothesmen all over the place," a spokesman said. "I don't think anybody is going to try anything, but we're not taking any chances."

Miss Brash, "if you just let the king of hearts hold the first trick."

Mr. Muzzy thought she was kidding. He considered the king of hearts the finest lead he could get. But he overlooked the fact he had two aces to drive out. If he had ducked the first heart trick, won the second one with the ace and then led a diamond as before, Mr. Dale, after taking the ace of diamonds, would have been out of hearts.

His best return would have been a spade. Mr. Muzzy could have won with dummy's ace and led clubs until the ace was played. He would still have had a heart stopper and plenty of tricks to cash for his contract.

Looking At Life...

Too many people in this world have made their life a matter of routine and, consequently, suffer from what is not a dangerous but very annoying disease -- boredom.

It's all very well to insist that two plus two make four. That's what you have learned in school and, by golly, you can prove it.

But why not make two plus two five, for a change, and let the OTHER fellow prove that it isn't?

Regularity of habit is a great virtue. But it can become a mighty monotonous virtue. Because most virtues become a little monotonous sooner or later, maybe that is why to break the monotony, there is so much vice going around.

I had my lunch in a very large

Go to Harvard!

Sylvia Berke testifying.

Leonard E. Mins on stand.

TWO WITNESSES who refused to answer questions about Communist activity are shown testifying in New York before the Senate investigations subcommittee headed by Senator Joseph McCarthy (R), Wisconsin. McCarthy, conducting the probe of spy activity at Fort Monmouth, N. J., Signal Corps lab, told Miss Berke, a school clerk, to "apply for a job at Harvard—that's a sanctuary for Communists." (International) and very popular diner in White Plains, N. Y.

It said on the menu, "Hot roast beef sandwich, with gravy. French fried potatoes and fresh peas, $1.10."

When the waitress came for my order, I told her that I would like the hot roast beef sandwich WITHOUT the gravy, potatoes or vegetable. "I want ONLY the roast beef, nothing else. And I would like it on rye bread, with a little butter on the bread."

The waitress shook her head. "You can't have it that way," she said. "We serve hot roast beef sandwiches WITH gravy, French fried potatoes and peas." I repeated my wish. I told her

I don't like gravy and wasn't hungry enough for a lot of potatoes and peas.

She looked at me as if I were Crazy. Then she said, "Wait a minute I'll prove it to you."

She called over another waitress and told her what "this fellow here" wants. Now they both looked at me as if I were a lunatic.

I repeated, "A hot roast beef sandwich on rye, please. No gravy. No Potatoes. No peas. Just a little butter on the bread."

Now the waitress was SURE I was a nut. I could tell by the way she looked at her colleague and made that peculiar rotary motion with her hand to her forehead.

But she thought it might be a good idea if she humored me. You can never tell what a crazy guy might do, and in a public place, at that.

She went out into the kitchen and, after a while, returned with my sandwich.

It was on WHITE bread instead of rye, had a lot of lettuce in it and NO butter.

But when the girl asked me whether THAT was what I wanted, I said "EXACTLY."

After the sandwich, I ordered a jelly doughnut. The waitress had recommended it. They baked them selves, she said.

As I bit into the doughnut, jelly squirted all over my face and over a brand new sportshirt I wore for the first time.

That waitress was so accustomed to routine that probably her entire existence, at least for that day, was ruined.

I bet she told all the other waitresses, her husband, and the neighbors about the nuts people in her profession have to contend with.

It's the same with life in general—why always order things that are on the menu? Try something different for a change!

OBITUARY
Guy Cox, son of Jefferson and Mary Bee Cox, was born in Jackson township, Putnam county, near the town of Barnard on Nov. 1, 1893.
In this vicinity his childhood days were spent.
On Oct. 14, 1914, he was united in marriage with Miss Blanche Hall of Carpentersville. Their married life has been spent in Putnam county where Guy was engaged in extensive farming operation near Bainbridge.
He was a member of the Community Church of Carpentersville, Greencastle Lodge No. 45, I. O. O. F., Greencastle Elks No. 1077, the Bainbridge Lions Club and the Conservation Club.
He was an ardent supporter of all civic projects for the good of the community and also worked faithfully in the interest of his chosen political party.
Guy was a man whose pleasing personality endeared him to all with whom he came in contact. Blessed with a fine sense of humor and a sensible, clear manner of expressing himself, he was an interesting, vital and valued member of the various groups with which he was affiliated.
During his entire life, he has followed this code of living—to deal justly with all people, to be kind, sympathetic and helpful to friends and neighbors and to walk uprightly in the ways of the Lord.
For the past few months he had been in failing health but had recently seemed somewhat improved and hopes were held for his recovery.
God willed otherwise and on Tuesday, Dec. 8, 1953, he passed quietly to rest at the age of 60 years, 1 mo., 7 days.
He is survived by his widow, Blanche; his father, Jefferson Cox; two sisters, Mrs. Bessie Shirley and Mrs. Muri Moore; and one brother, Lloyd Cox all of Indianapolis. His mother preceded him in death.
He has been a foster father to his brother-in-law Fred Hall since Fred's early teens and for several years they have been partners in their farming activity.
When the good man yields his breath
Bright beyond the gulf of death
The land of promise lies
And death is but the path that must be trod
If man would ever pass to God.

CARD OF THANKS
Mrs. Blanche Cox, Mr. Jefferson Cox and family, wish to thank all those friends and neighbors who, with their sympathy, their floral offerings, their gifts of food and their many deeds of kindness and service helped during the recent illness and death of their loved one, Guy Cox.
To the various organizations included the W.S.C.S., Eastern Star, the I.O.O.F., the Elks, the Lion's Club, Conservation Club, Bainbridge Fire Dept. and many other groups. They wish to express deep appreciation for comfort and aid in a time of deep sorrow.

Only the Monarch ROASTER RANGE gives you this extra

Stoopless Oven
Just lift the cover, and there's your food.

Saves stooping... saves pulling out hot oven racks. A wonderful convenience for frequent basting of fowl, ham, and game. Perfect for roasting meats, pies, biscuits, or complete dinners. Economical to operate.

IF IT'S A ROASTER RANGE IT'S A Monarch SINCE 1896

"See" What's Cooking ACROSS THE ROOM
Range features the smart new and different "COLOR-VU" Control Panel — have a color in rectangle below switch starting with a warm color on HI — color changes as heat is decreased. MODERN, PRACTICAL, FOOL-PROOF.

With this second oven you always have enough oven space... and you have the added convenience of two different oven temperatures for use at the same time. Your regular oven, with broiler unit, is always in reserve. You have no idea how beautiful these ranges are until you see them. By all means, see these and other "feature-packed" MONARCH range models.
